SENATE AND HOUSE.

The Fisheries Question Under Consideration.

VARIOUS APPROPRIATIONS.

A Lengthy Debate—Another Veto by the President—Other Telegraphic News.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, August 7.—The resolution offered yesterday instructing the committee on finance to make an investigation of the cotton bagging pool was adopted.

The Senate bill appropriating $10,000 for the postoffice at Mammoth Hot Springs in the Yellowstone National Park, was adopted.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the fisheries treaty and was addressed by Sherman in opposition to its ratification. As to the charge made on the other side of the house that the policy of the Republican party was to make an appeal to the Irish vote, the chairman considered that one of the most serious errors without any foundation. The great contest about to be made before the people would turn on other questions. They would be the same old questions talked about for the last twenty years. The duty of Congress to protect the first industries of the country from undue competition with the labor of Europe, and the second the rights of the United States citizens at home and abroad. These questions would enter into the campaign and would probably control the result. Opposition to the treaty was not "derelict respect." On the part of the Republican party, that the party need no such "respect," standing as it did on its record and on the great issues presented and which would be further presented during the present session.

He regarded the controversy with Great Britain as infinitely more important and more injurious than the controversy with any other nation, for of all people who inhabit the globe, the people of the United States and the people of Great Britain were most intimately allied by every tie of consanguinity, of history, of faith, of institutions, or similarity of character and disposition, of ancestry and of everything which tended to make lies between separate nations therefore he would have been glad to see in the pending treaty a settlement of the controversy, and he had approached its consideration with a desire to find in it such a settlement, but the more he had examined it, the more he had become satisfied that the treaty, if ratified, would open new avenues of controversy, lead to new irritations and therefore not accomplish its purpose. Anything that tended to promote free commercial intercourse, anything that tended to produce a union of the United States and the United Kingdom, he heartily supported; in his judgment the domination of Canada would be within ten years, either in the imperial parliament of Great Britain or in the Congress of the United States. He therefore favored the policy of bringing about international exchanges with Canada of the freest character possible, perhaps something of the nature of a settlement. He did not regard the treaty as a party question, nor as a sectional question, neither was it an Irish question, nor was it an Irish question, nor was it a general sympathy with the Irish people, nor only in the Senate, but among all people of the United States. He hoped the people of Ireland would gain the right to pass their local laws, but the people of the United States were not going to involve themselves into a controversy with Great Britain in respect to matters over which they had no control. He had no sympathy with the Anglophobia or with the abuse of the British government. Whatever might be said of that power, it was the greatest element of civilization in modern history in all the great elements of human progress, and English power always led. He would treat Great Britain as a friendly nation without receiving any of the annoyances of the past. Sherman then proceeded to the details of the pending treaty. He regarded the section of the treaty allowing the free importation of Canadian fish and fish oil as a surrender of the right of the United States to levy taxes on imported goods as an insult to the United States. There was not in the history of diplomacy so one-sided a treaty between two great nations. Such a treaty seemed to him to be an American diplomatic idea that two great countries were going to war about this matter. If the President would with moderation exercise the power conferred upon him by law, authorizing retaliation, there would be no trouble.

A message from the President voting to grant 635 acres of military reservation to the city of Tacoma, Washington Territory, for a park, was read and referred to the committee on public lands. Grounds of the President's refusal to sign are that the army engineers report against the grant because the land may be needed for military purposes.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the bill, and reported from the committee on foreign relations to prohibit the coming of Chinese laborers to the United States.

Stewart spoke in favor of the bill, and when he closed, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, August 7.—Outwaite, of Ohio, called up for consideration the Senate bill making an appropriation to enable the several executive departments of the government to participate in the Ohio Centennial Exposition in September next. This provoked much discussion and opposition.

Canon, of Illinois, said the reason why the committee on appropriations had reported this bill was that Congress had already passed the bill to enable departments to make an exhibit at Cincinnati which was in the same State as Columbus and within five hours' ride of that city, and where an exposition was to be held at the same time as that of Columbus.

Henderson, of Iowa, offered an amendment appropriating $250,000 to aid the exposition to be held by the colored race in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1889 and 1890 under the auspices of the colored workers of the Fair Association of America.

Warner offered an amendment appropriating $40,000 to enable the department to be represented at Kansas City Exposition, to be held in September and October. Adopted.

Amendments offered by Messrs. Wise and Henderson were adopted and the question then returned on the third reading of the bill as amended and yeas and nays were ordered, and resulted—yeas 68, nays 91. No quorum. The House then adjourned.

Gave It Up.

STANDING ROCK AGENCY, Dakota, August 7.—In the council this morning, there was no favorable change in the minds of the Indians. John Goss reiterated the determination of the Indians to refuse to sign either paper.

Gal said his people would go home to-day. They started to leave, when they were ordered to remain, which they did. The commissioners then finally adjourned the council and told the Indians to go home and attend to their crops and the commissioners would proceed to other agencies, and when the Standing Rock people were wanted again notice would be given. They then dispersed quietly and set out for their homes.

The Cheyenne River agency will be visited next.

THE DEAD GENERAL.

Making Arrangements for the Funeral Rites.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Paddling for Harrison—The Commons—The Whisky Trust—Railroad Accident—Etc.

The Dead General.

Next, Mass., August 7.—Colonel Blount, of General Sheridan's staff, and Colonel Kelly, arrived here this morning to assist in the arrangements for the removal of General Sheridan's body to Washington. General Schofield will probably not come. It is decided to close Nonquit, reservation, which is private property, against all outsiders during the removal of the body. Mrs. Sheridan will leave here by the 5 p. m. boat, on Wednesday, with the remains, accompanied by Colonel Sheridan, Colonel Kellogg and Colonel Blount, two Sisters of Labor Secor and servants, a guard of honor of six men from the 1st and 10th of New Bedford will attend the body. A special train will leave at 6 p. m. for Washington.

On board the train will be a guard of regulars from Fort Adams. On the arrival at Washington the body will be taken to St. Matthew's Church, or the Church of the Holy Trinity. Requiem mass will probably be celebrated by the Cardinal in case he is not present the parish priest will officiate. The President and cabinet and both houses of Congress will attend, and at the conclusion the remains will be taken to the Arlington National Cemetery, where the burial service will be read. Only immediate members of the family will see the remains. It is said the face appears natural.

WASHINGTON, August 7.—General McFieley, General D. H. Rucker (retired) and Major Lydecker, of the army, visited Arlington Cemetery to-day to select a site for the grave of General Sheridan.

The Secretary of War, this afternoon issued a general order to the army, directing the facts of the military career of Sheridan, ordering flags at all military stations placed at half staff, seven-minute guns fired on the day following the receipt of this order, and the usual lodges of mourning displayed for thirty days.

The old manor house and the old site of the face will be taken, this being the wish of the family.

For the funeral of General Sheridan next Saturday, the following order of services at the church and grave has been arranged. At 10 a. m. solemn requiem mass at St. Matthew's Church, celebrated by Rev. J. F. Mackin with Rev. T. J. Kervick as deacon and Rev. F. Ryan as sub-deacon.

Absolution will be pronounced by the Cardinal. The services at the grave will be conducted by Right Rev. John Foley, bishop-elect of Detroit.

Republican State Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 7.—The hotel lobbies are filled to overflowing to-day with delegates and visitors in attendance in the Republican State Convention which commences to-morrow at 10 a. m. The chief interest centers in the struggle for the gubernatorial nomination and busy caucusing between the 1,100 delegates to-night indicates the zeal and confidence of several aspiring candidates.

Ex-Governor Porter, in view of his emphatic refusal to permit his name to go before the convention, is no longer considered by a majority of the leading politicians in attendance as among the possible nominees for the Governorship. All doubts on this point were seemingly swept aside by Governor Porter yesterday and to-day by his reiterated public declaration to friends of other friends that there were no circumstances or contingencies that he could now accept the candidacy. Candidates and aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination are: Colonel H. B. Robertson, of Fort Wayne, President; Lieutenant-Governor, Major George W. Steele, of Maun; Congressman, Eleventh District, Colonel William Cumbach, of Greensburg, and ex-Governor General H. P. Hovey, of Mount Vernon; Congressman of the First District, Rev. L. J. Chase, of the Danville Department, Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Hon. Jno. W. Butler, of Indianapolis. The name of the chairman, J. W. Huston, of the Republican State Committee, is frequently mentioned as a dark horse, but Huston declares he is not a candidate in any sense of the word.

The French Elots.

PARIS, August 7.—Seven arrests have been made at Amiens, of persons concerned in the riot there yesterday. Four of them are foreigners. The mayor has issued an order forbidding the people to assemble under penalty of the riot act of 1848. The strikers continue the agitation and another riot is feared. Troops guard the town hall and factories and are patrolling the streets.

Pleur-Pneumonia.

New York, August 7.—Recent sudden changes in the weather had the effect of suddenly developing pleur-pneumonia among the cattle in and about this city. In Westchester County the Bureau of Animal Industry has ordered the destruction of over two hundred head.

Fire.

MAON, Mo., August 7.—Four of the finest buildings in the city were destroyed by fire this morning. Loss over $100,000. Insurance $50,000.

The Commons.

London, August 7.—In the Commons this evening, W. H. Smith, government leader, moved that if the Parnell inquiry bill were not passed by midnight, the 2 o'clock rule be suspended. Motion was adopted and the House proceeded to consideration of the bill as amended.

Matthews house secretary moved to insert the following: "If any person having been served with summons under this act should fail to appear, the commission shall have power to issue a warrant for the arrest of such person." Adopted.

Matthews next moved that anybody who is summoned to attend before the Commission and who refuses or fails to attend is liable to punishment for contempt of the high court of England.

Parnell moved an amendment to the effect that any person refusing to make full and true statements in the matter in respect to which he might be examined, might be liable to punishment by high court. Rejected 191 to 129.

A long discussion ensued on the proposal by Hunter (Liberal) to compel the Times to formulate its charges before the opening of the inquiry by the commission. It was opposed by the government and finally rejected.

The Whisky Trust.

WASHINGTON, August 7.—The House committee on manufacturers to-day resumed inquiry into the whisky trust. Joseph B. Greenhut, of Peoria, Ill., president of the Great Western Whisky Trust, produced articles of agreement among the organizations forming the basis of trust. Greenhut explained the organization was a co-operative concern intended to insure intelligent concerted action, but not to corner the markets. Once a month the board of trustees met to examine the books, and if circumstances warranted to declare a dividend of the total annual output of the trust (40,000,000 gallons of spirits) about 15 per cent. was consumed as beverage, 8,000,000 gallons used in the distillation and the remainder in manufactures and wine fermentation. Witnesses believed that from the natural advantages, such as cheap fuel, grain and other raw materials, the domestic manufacture of spirits was fully able to meet European competition without the aid of import duties, which, in his opinion, were not necessary to enable our spirit-makers to control the market at home, exclusive of moonshine product.

Greenhut believed the association made 65 or 75 per cent. of the entire quantity of alcohol manufactured in the country.

New Directors.

NEW YORK, August 7.—At the annual meeting of the Pacific Postal Telegraph and Cable Company, the following board of directors was elected: John W. Mackay, President; William C. Van Horn, Vice President; George S. Rogers, Charles R. Hosmer, George S. Rogers, Albert B. Chandler, Hector Decastro, Ed. C. Platt, Treasurer, and George G. Ward.

Railroad Accident.

ATLANTA, Pa., August 7.—A car of stone left the rails to-day near Mapleton, where a gang of men are building a bridge, and crashed through the light trestle crushing workmen into the Juniata River. Fifty feet below. Two men were fatally injured, and three are in a dangerous condition—they probably will be crippled for life. Several others more or less.

Emigrant Fares Reduced.

NEW YORK, August 7.—The executive committee of the trunk lines of the Passenger Agents' Association has resolved that, taking effect August 10th, emigrant fares will be reduced to a basis of $5 New York and Boston, and Baltimore to Chicago, adding thereto the net fares authorized by the connecting lines.

The Immigration Investigation.

NEW YORK, August 7.—When the steamer was boarded at quarantine, it was found she carried of stowage passengers all Austrians instead of 400 Italians. The committee returned to the city and resumed its session, and the testimony of Colonel Caesar, of the Philadelphia Record, was resumed. The witness said that in the Pennsylvania observation that found by the men employed in the ranks were Italians, Hungarian and Poles; the common laborers of these localities receive only from 50 cents to $1.50 per day. The Italians live on about 40 cents a day, but the Hungarians spend about 50 cents. Witness said that in fifteen years the rate of wages had decreased 50 per cent., but the price of coal had remained the same.

Tippecanoe Paddling for Harrison.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 9.—A delegation from Tippecanoe County, numbering about 1,000 people, called on General Harrison to-day. The usual sprinkling of veterans of the Tippecanoe campaign were marching in the ranks. They carried a dingy old Harrison banner of 1840. General Harrison made a short speech devoted mainly to the origin and the principles of the Republican Party.

Collision.

LONDON, August 7.—There was a collision at Hampton Wick depot, at midnight last night, between a passenger and a freight train. Two passenger carriages were teleported. The driver and stoker of the passenger locomotive and four passengers were killed.

The Austrian Floods.

VIENNA, August 7.—The floods in Austria continue. It has been decided to close the arm of the Danube traversing Vienna.

THE SALT LAKES WIN AGAIN.

The Kids Defeated by a Score of 8 to 11.

There was a good attendance at Washington Park yesterday afternoon, and a good many of those present expected to see the present Nationals shut out by the Salt Lakes, but in this they were greatly mistaken. Busby pitched for the Kids and Margets went into the box for the Salt Lakes, while Castone, the colored pitcher from Kansas City, was stationed out in centre field, and the result was that at the end of the third innings the Kids had piled up eight runs, while the big fellows had but two to their credit. It was seen that the Nationals would have a walk-over if this thing continued, so Castone went into the box. It soon became evident that he was all that had been claimed for him, but with the Nationals in the lead it looked as though they would win in spite of him.

When the Salt Lakes came in for the 1st inning the score stood 8 to 0, in favor of the kids. Base made a three-base hit, bringing in Flecken, Castone and Margets, bringing their score up to 11.

The Nationals managed to find the ball again in their last inning, but it did them no good. Ridges made a safe hit and got to first, but Larsen flew out to McAndries, who threw Ridges out at first, and Busby flew out to Flecken.

Following is the score:

Box score by K. H. H. H.

Best three batters was all that won the game for the Salt Lakes yesterday.

"We came near waiting too long before putting Castone into the box," remarked Jones.

The Salt Lakes will leave for the north in a few days. They will visit Postville, Butte, Helena, Boise and other northern towns.

To-morrow the public will have the opportunity to see Castone, "the Kansas City terror," as one of the boys dubbed him yesterday.

In trying to take in a foul yesterday, Mathias started to climb over the south stand three seats at a time, and if some one hadn't called to him, he would probably have walked right over the fence.

The Salt Lakes and Nationals will meet for the last time prior to the latter's departure to-morrow afternoon. The batteries will be Castone and Straub for the Salt Lakes, Busby and Lloyd for the Nationals. Game will be called at 1 p. m.

Bad Boys in Trouble.

On Monday night Fred Tremayne, Thomas Healden, Harvey Gilbert, Chas. O'Connor, Thomas Croft and two other boys, went into Hegney's ice cream saloon near the D. & R. G. depot, and ordered cream. While the waiter was attending to the wants of some other parties, the boys opened the cash drawer and helped themselves to about $5. They were just running out of the place when the attendant came back, and all of the boys except Croft, and two others were caught. Upon being taken to the police station, the boys admitted that they had committed a number of thefts recently, among them being the following:

Solomon Kros, three pairs of shoes; L. O. Karriek, four hats; B. K. Thomas, a bundle of stockings; the Bee Hive Store, five pairs of suspenders; O'Kelley's, five pairs of shoes; Z. O. M. L., five pairs of pants; Eli L. Price, tobacco and cigars.
